VANCOUVER

Vancouver B. C., the natural doorway of the Dominion to the West, is a city of many charms, and great possibilities. It is situated on a peninsula and almost entirely surrounded by salt water. Its land locked harbor, one of the finest in the world its glorious scenery and equable climate, are nature's gifts, and are second to none. The city fronts on Burrard Inlet, and extends across a strip of land to English Bay, along the shore of which it is now reaching out. The situation is most perfect as regards picturesqueness, natural drainage, harbor facilities and commercial advantages. It has already extensive wharves and warehouses, many hotels, churches, schools, etc. It has many buildings of brick and granite, and some of its private residences would do credit to cities of a century's growth. It has many miles of asphalt streets, and is lighted both by gas and by electricity. An ample supply of pure water is provided by means of pipes laid under the inlet from a mountain stream opposite. is a regular steamship service to Victoria, Nanaimo and San Francisco, to China and Japan, to Sydney, N.S.W., via Honolulu, H.I., Suva, Fiji, and Brisbane, Qd., and to Puget Sound and Alaskan ports.

The country south, towards the Fraser, has fine farms, and is especially adapted to fruit growing. The coal supply comes from Nanaimo, directly across the Straits of Georgia, and almost within sight. The scenery all about is magnificent—the Cascade Mountains near at hand at the north; the mountains of Vancouver Island across the water at the west, the Olympics at the south-west; and Mount Baker looming up at the south-east. Stanley Park is a magnificent public pleasure resort, and a visit to Capilano Canon, a remarkable mountain cleft, across the inlet, is a delightful outing. Opportunities for sport are unlimited at no great distance—mountain goats, bear and deer in the hills along the inlet; trout-fishing in the mountain streams; and sea-fishing in endless variety. A stay of a week here will be well rewarded.

A FEW FACTS.

Great Mills.—Where the gigantic trees are sawn into timbers and lumber. Most modern up-to-date plants; not excelled anywhere, Water Works.—Very unique and admirable system. Water piped an immense distance from up the Capilano down under the salt water inlet into the reservoir in Stanley Park.

Docks and Wharves.—where are seen the Empress and Australian liners, Alaskan steamers, sailing ships that come around the Horn from Europe, and lumber freighters to and from South America and Trans-Pacific ports.

Assay Office.—The Dominion Government recognizing the importance of Vancouver as a great mining centre, has here the only assay office in Canada. Visitors are not debarred from observing the process of treating the precious metals.

Marine Railways.—Vancouver in the near future will have a monster dry dock, but at present the marine railways are of great service. Large boats are by these means hauled up above high tide for examination and repairs.

Salmon Canneries.—Eight miles distant on the Fraser, running at full swing during July and August.

Ship Yards.—The industry of ship building is making good headway in Vancouver. It is expected that some very large keels will be in the stocks this year.

The building permits for eight months ending Aug. 31st, 1905, have averaged monthly $200,000.

The salmon pack for 1905 will reach 750,000 cases.

Vancouver is the largest city in British Columbia. Population in 1886 was 1,009, in 1905—45,000.

Vancouver has the best paved streets, water and sewerage system in the west.

Vancouver has fully 20 miles of street railway within the city limits.

PLACES OF INTEREST.

STANLEY PARK.

Stanley Park is conceded by all to be one of the finest parks in the world, and is Vancouver's principle attraction. It has miles of fine driveways and walks, Brockton Point, the Zoological Gardens, Big Trees and the Reservoir, are all well worth a visit. To reach this beautiful spot, take a Pender Street car at the Post Office, going west.

ENGLISH BAY.

English Bay is reached by a ten minutes ride on the electric cars through the best residential district.

furnished at a moderate fee, a tobaggan slide has been built, and a float placed some distance from the shore. For the safety of children and the benefit of those learning to swim, the city engages a competent instructor, who attends during the entire season. Owing to the enclosure of the Bay, the water is warmer for a longer period during the summer than at any other place north of San Francisco. The weather is all that can be desired, and each successive week of the midsummer months sees no variation in the salubrious climate. Boating is one of the pleasures sought at English Bay. From there can be made many trips of interest,—to the cannery, to the campers' ground at Greer's Beech, to logging camps along the shore, and to the lighthouse at Point Atkinson.

Pavilions have been erected in which hops, concerts and other social functions are held nightly during the summer months. The whole scene along the shore of the Bay is one of beauty. Apart from the material advantages to be obtained, it is a delightful place to visit, with its delicious coolness, invigorating breezes and pleasant environment.

Take Robson or Davie Street car going west.

MILLS.

The Pacific Coast Lumber company's mill, Georgia Street or Hastings Saw Mill at the foot of Dunlevy Avenue have splendid facilities for visitors to see two of Canada's great saw mills in full operation.

To view the water front take Powell Street car going east.

NEW WESTMINSTER.

Is worthy of a day's time to any one. It is situated on the Fraser River, 12 miles from Vancouver and is reached by the electric cars.

It has many fine buildings, is the center of a rich farming district and the river views are unsurpassed. The great bridge (cost $1,000,000) built by the Provincial Government, is a specimen of engineers' skill.

FISHING.

Anglers can leave Vancouver for a day's fishing by C. P. R. train from depot for Coquitlam (Westminster Junction), Lillooet River (Haney) and Stave River, (Ruskin), on trains leaving Vancouver at 7.10 a. m. and 8.00 a.m., returning arrive at Vancouver at 7.25 p. m. and 8.43 p. m. Any of the above points can be reached inside of two hours from Vancouver.

BOATING.

Yachting is regarded as one of the glorious sports of Vancouver, for snug harbors are everywhere and the different places a yachtsman can go cruising are almost infinite in number.

The Vancouver Yacht Club, with its membership of nearly 200 and a fleet of some 45 yachts of all classes, has always "something doing" during the season in this particular line of sport, and the visiting yachtsman will be made to feel at home on making his presence in the city known to any active member of the Club.

Sail and row boats and canoes can be hired at reasonable prices.

ball are not uncommon visitors to these waters, while Mallard, Teal and Black Ducks, usually regarded as very good eating, are found virtually everywhere.

Snipe and plover shooting on Lulu Island is often very good, and wood-cock are occasionally bagged.

For the sportsman who prefers to walk dryshod through the woods or on the skid roads, grouse and pheasant shooting is capital sport.

It must be admitted that immediately close to the city the birds are not very plentiful, but after one gets out a bit, they can be "put up" almost anywhere.

SOMETHING NEW.

There has been brought into use a new electric lamp by which Photographs can be taken at night. It is a great boon to photographers, and enables the followers of that art to rush their business at night time as well as by day.

The King Studio, the past year, under the management of V. V. Vinson, has become the most popular and best regulated Photo Studio in Canada. All the latest and modern improvements are installed. The studio proper occupies more floor space than any other Studio on the Pacific Coast. By the first of October two large electric lamps will be installed, making it possible to take photos day or night, rain or shine. The Studio will be found open from 8 a.m. until 10 p.m. work days. The old saying, "Wait until the sun shines," is a thing of the past. Those who find it impossible to find time to sit for Photos during the day will find it a great convenience, for with the aid of our new electric lamps pictures can be made at night as well as on a bright day.

So for our Christmas trade there will be no disappointments.

Those desiring to investigate this new method of Photography will be welcomed at our Studio. We are only too glad to show you around and make your acquaintance, for our method is courteous treatment to one and all and up-to-date business methods.

The "Oldsmobile" is the Top Notch of Motor Car Building.

All parts of a motor car must work together. Not only the motor, or the transmission, or the carbureter, but every part. The car must stand wear and tear of usage. Must have plenty of power to climb hills. It must take you along as fast as you want to go. Must be easy to start, stop and control. Dependable under all circumstances it must be. It must leave you nothing to watch. The "Oldsmobile" measures up to all these standards. It's the car that expert motorists recommend. It's the car for you. A catalogue is yours for the asking, but, better still, drop in and let us take you on a spin and demonstrate the easy running powers and accuracy in every detail of the "Oldsmobile."

North Vancouver, situated on Burrard Inlet, opposite Vancouver, is rapidly coming to the front, and is destined to become one of the principle cities of British Columbia.

The municipality has many improvements under way; streets are being laid out and improved; numerous new dwellings and buildings for mercantile purposes are being erected. The B. C. Electric Railway, Light & Power Co. will soon be installing their electric light and power systems.

The plans for the V., W. & Y. Railway (or the Great Northern) to build north by way of North Vancouver are completed, and the Company will proceed with construction as soon as arrangements can be perfected with the Provincial Government to do so.

A picture of North Vancouver of today and one of a couple of years hence would be hard to imagine, but there is no doubt that it will suit the most enthusiastic commuter in every respect.

Besides its many commercial advantages, North Vancouver has many beautiful places to attract the tourist or party who wishes to spend a few hours, days or weeks away from the hurry and bustle of city life. During the summer season Band Concerts, Moonlight Excursions, Picnics, Dances, Tally-Ho Rides up the Canyon, and numerous other attractions tend to make it the summer garden of this district.

Take North Vancouver Ferry at the foot of Carrall Street. The North Vancouver Hotel is complete in all its details, and affords the visitor every convenience. Carriages can be secured at Hotel for large or small parties.

CAPILANO CANYON.

A beautiful trip with magnificent scenery. Swing Bridge, 190 feet over Canyon. In a few minutes we are on to the Keith Road, which leads up to the beautiful Capilano River, and then there is a walk and climb of such interest and indescribable grandeur that it is well worth crossing the continent to take.

The Keith Road, running more or less parallel with the Inlet all the way from the Lighthouse to the North Arm, a distance of about fifteen miles, is a highway of rare interest to one unaccustomed to sweet solitude away from the haunts of men. If the visitor fancies camping with a small outfit or merely a day's picnicing in the wilds, no better ground could be found, many parts of which are to be reached either by water or the road.

INDIAN VILLAGE.

About one-half mile from North Vancouver, is an interesting settlement of aborigines. Here you can see the red man of the forest in his real native haunts, and talk with him in his cabin, wigwam or council chamber.

TRIP UP GROUSE MOUNTAIN.

The Tourist Association's pony trail affords a magnificent panoramic view of the City and surrounding country. Horses can be secured at hotel.

The Grand Theatre, of the Sullivan-Considine Circuit, although a smaller house, is at the top of the list in vaudeville. The above circuit takes in San Francisco, Portland, Tacoma, Seattle, Vancouver, Bellingham, Spokane, Butte, Minneapolis, Chicago, Milwaukee, Cleveland and Detroit. It also has houses projected in Columbus, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Louisville, Kansas City and Cincinnati. This is a very extensive combination and none but the best talent is procured.
